Solomon Kiprotich Kimetto

Why Solomon Kiprotich Kimetto?

Solomon was born in Kenya in 1978 and although he has always loved God and known His presence with him since a child, he really committed his life to God when he was baptised in 1989. Since then he has grown in the Christian faith and served in the church, Sunday school and local secondary school as a youth leader.

He has seen young people in his area who are facing the problems of HIV/AIDS, poor living conditions, conflicts amongst youth, family breakdown, unrest in schools and clashes amongst the various tribes. Solomon has felt called to train in counselling and chaplaincy skills to be relevant in the community and to be able to help converts to become mature Christians.

Solomon is studying for a Bachelor of Education and Counselling course at Kenya Methodist University from September 2005 – June 2008. His training will enable him to become a full time chaplain as well as RE teacher in one of the primary or secondary schools in the Diocese of Eldoret, Kenya.
